

Starick strikes again and again and again...
...but not as many times as the rest of us!

By Dennis Fuller

Clear skies and sunshine greeted golfers at Emerald Golf Club and excuses for poor golf had evaporated overnight. Mark Starick (13) did not need any excuses and cruised to a leisurely win over-all and in A Grade, with 38 points.

Once again Andrew Cutting (17) was the star in B Grade with 37 points but fell a couple of points short of the big win.

Back from overseas, Ken Sumsion (24), wasted no time hitting the winners' rostrum when he cleaned up in C Grade with 37 points.

Steve Town played to his handicap with 36 points and Leigh Morison and Ian Scott came in only one point back on 35.

Dean Aitken had the longest drive on the 1st and was nearest on the 13th, while Con Whitlock was nearest on the 4th, Cutting on the 7th, Peter Clowes the 12th, Town the 17th and Morison picked up the pro pin cash on the 18th.

The ladies' comp saw a close finish with Eve Kennaugh just pipping the ever consistent Nellie Bradshaw.

On Wednesday when the Obviously Faded Golfers (OFG) assemble a stableford round of golf was decided upon by the intelligencia. This suited Sepp Krummenacher (28) as he came in with 43 big points to greet the judge three ahead of the fast finishing John Piggott (18) on 40.

Next Saturday is fair dinkum as a stroke event will see the first 16 players qualify for the club's match play championship.

Here are the scores supplied by Gatto so if there are any discrepancies (Prof?) leave me alone as I am already crouched in the corner in the foetal position after failing to win yet again for the 25th time!
